

3-Day Tour Itinerary

"I want to thank you and your staff for the great time...at the Running of the Bulls in Pamplona. We learned a lot and really enjoyed your professionalism. Keep up the good work. We may just do this again."
- Barry Bearson & Bonnie Brown

Day 1: We pick you up at Pamplona's train station or airport. A Spyns guide will also check you in at your hotel and give you a brief overview of Pamplona, the fiesta, and your tour. After that, it's all about the options. We don't run traditional tours but more of a Pamplona experience: we have a menu of activities on day 1 so you can either join one of our guides or go it alone. After getting settled in your hotel room, you can join an afternoon walking tour to see the bull run. Plan your bull run strategy while learning the rich history behind the running of the bulls. See the more dangerous portions of the run. Drinks at a local tapas bar (not included) after your walkabout. Then you can dance the night away as Pamplona has more bars than Dublin!

Day 2: Today we'll rise early for a 6:30 a.m. transfer to Spyns' private balconies to watch a morning bull run (called the 'encierro'). If you're planning to run, we recommend you watch from our balconies before tempting fate. Coffee and pastries served before the bull run and our guides are on hand to provide expert commentary before, during and after the run.

Day 3: Rise early for a Spyns shuttle to run with the bulls followed by hearty hotel breakfast to trade war stories...or scars! Grab a quick nap before transfer to the Pamplona train station or airport and on to your final destination.

Spyns (pronounced 'spins') is Pamplona's leading tour company. We've been organizing adventures to Pamplona since 2003 and have grown to become an industry leader. We know our clients and understand that you want to experience more than just the regular sights. With Spyns, you're not just seeing Pamplona's San Fermin, but living it. But don't take our word for it, go to our Youtube page: www.youtube.com/pamplonasbulls to see what clients have to say about our company and tours.
